Benefits of CT DOTS Online

Early childhood professionals, inside and out of the classroom, now have a paper-free method of observing children, collecting evidence/artifacts and evaluating their skills against a standard set of indicators. Available anytime, anywhere and from any device, CT DOTS Online eliminates cumbersome paper processes and streamlines your work-flow.

Teachers/Observers	Administrators
Observe and collect evidence as it is happening or input data at a later date	Clearly see where students are excelling and where they need more individualized help
Run individual student reports to prepare individualized lessons or to use during conferences	Save time by viewing all student data in a centralized, online platform
Run classroom reports to help plan classroom activities based on current student needs	Run reports based on customized data fields, such as slot funding or attendance
Eliminate paper documentation for evidence collection and reporting	Run reports from the classroom level to the district level
